The Nicol is too small a coin for Republicans to use in New York elections when the Democrats are determined to elect their fellows.

Gen. Geo. W. Morgan, of Ohio, has published a card denying that Gov. Gordon, of Georgia, kissed him at a public meeting in Cleveland. This ought to settle it.

Oregon went "wet" Tuesday in more ways than one. It rained all day long while the election was being held and Prohibition was knocked out by 8,000 majority.

The contest in New York was to settle the claims of Cleveland for the head of the Democratic ticket and Fred Grant for the tail of the Republican ticket next year. Heads won.

Up to the time we went to press nothing had been heard to indicate that the Governor of Illinois would interfere in the cases of the Chicago Anarchists sentenced to hang to-day. They will probably swing off early this morning.

Mrs. James Brown Potter's success in her initial appearance on the New York stage has given her a tremendous send-off in the theatrical world. Some of the critics are rather severe on her but most of them agree that she bids fair to become a great actress.

The Owensboro Messenger is informed that the South Kentuckian conceives its duty to the public to be to chronicle the news and not to manufacture sensations. Our Owensboro contemporary should not infringe on the Louisville Commercial's patent. One paper of that kind in the State is enough.

An imposing monument to Jno. C. Breckinridge, who was Vice-President during the Buchanan administration, will be unveiled at Lexington, Ky., on the 16th inst. The Grand Army of the Republic in Kentucky has been formally invited to attend and take part in the ceremonies.

Dakota has voted in favor of dividing the territory into two territories to be called North Dakota and South Dakota. The Southern half will again seek admission to the union of states, and it is not likely that she will be kept out much longer. Washington and Utah are also anxious to become States and it is very probable that one or more new States will be admitted by the next Congress.

The public may prepare itself to hear of a bloody deed between the editors of the Louisville Commercial and the Bourbon News. Editor Dan O'Sullivan stigmatized Editor Bruce Champ, of the News, as a "coffee-cooler," etc., and the latter retaliated by sending Daniela a letter denouncing him as "a liar, a scoundrel and a hireling" and concluded by challenging him to fight, or words to that effect. In accepting the challenge the Commercial man makes the following suggestions as to the details:

"As we are the challenged party, it is our privilege to name the weapons. The editor of the Commercial will take pleasure in fighting the editor of the Bourbon News at three paces with pillows stuffed with elder down. If this is not agreeable, he will engage his belligerent friend at four paces with wind-blown bladders. Or better still, the editor of the Commercial will stand in front of the belligerent editor of the Bourbon News and drink Crab Orchard salts with him until one of us is forced to retire from the field.

The editor of the Commercial names as his second the Hon. John L. Sullivan, of Boston, who requests that any further communication upon this subject be referred directly to him."

With the exceptions of New York, New Jersey and Virginia there is nothing in the election results to encourage or discourage either party. In New York the majority of 1,100 in 1884 was increased to 11,000 by Gov. Hill in the last election and this year, with six tickets in the field, the majority for the Democratic State ticket is over 30,000. Cleveland endorsed the Democratic ticket and Blaine pinned his hopes to Gen. Grant's son, Fred Grant, who headed the Republican ticket. The result can mean but one thing. New York is solidly Democratic and it is as certain to vote for Cleveland as is Kentucky. Blaine cannot hope to overcome a majority of 30,000 and if the Republicans elect their ticket it will be without the aid of New York. In Virginia the result settles for all time that the Old Dominion is not a doubtful state. She can be relied upon to give her vote as heretofore to the Democratic candidates in 1888. In the gain of a Senator in New Jersey the Republicans have some consolation in their hour of defeat. It offsets the Democratic gain in Virginia and still leaves them with two majority in the Senate. The gain when analyzed is not at all significant. The last Legislature was Democratic by but one majority and it required but a few changes to alter its complexion. It does not follow that the State will go Republican next year, but the Republicans are welcome to all the comfort they can get out of the result in New Jersey. They can take New Jersey and Cleveland can still be elected. Ohio is a Republican State and nobody expected anything else than that Foraker and his gang would be re-elected in that State.

Blaine's Eye Blacked.

NEW YORK GOES DEMOCRATIC BY 20,000 MAJORITY.

VIRGINIA KNOCKS OUT MAHONE, BUT OHIO STICKS TO FORAKER.

Republicans Gain a Senator in New Jersey.

Oregon Goes Wet and Dakota Votes Dry.

NEW YORK.

Both parties staked their all on the result of the New York election and the Democrats have won. The tickets were headed by Fred Cook, Dem., and Fred Grant, Rep., for Secretary of State and there were four other tickets in the field, viz: Prohibition, United Labor, Greenback, and Progressive Labor. The result was conceded to be very doubtful, on account of the presence of so many tickets of unknown strength, but the Democrats have achieved a victory that assures Cleveland's re-election and sounds Blaine's political death knell. The State has gone Democratic by from 20,000 to 30,000 votes. The Labor vote will not reach 60,000 in the State and is only about 35,000 in New York City against 70,000 last year. The Prohibition vote is still smaller. The Democratic majority in New York and Kings county is nearly 60,000. In New York City Jno. R. Fellows, Dem., is elected District Attorney by 21,000.

The only thing to mar the general rejoicing is that the Republicans have elected their candidate to succeed Hancock in the Syracuse Congressional district.

VIRGINIA.

Virginia elected a Legislature that will be two thirds Democratic, which puts an end to Riddleberger in the Senate and forever retires Mahone. Among the Republican members elected are two negroes in the Petersburg district.

MARYLAND.

Maryland elected a state ticket and Legislature. E. C. Jackson's majority for Governor over Brooks, Rep., is about 12,000 and the Legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic in both branches. Baltimore gives 6,000 Democratic majority.

OHIO.

Ohio elected a Governor and other state officers and the indications are that the Republicans have increased their majority of 1885 from 17,000 to 20,000 or 25,000. The greater portion of this gain is in Cincinnati and Hamilton County. The Labor vote in Cincinnati was about 12,000, the Prohibition vote only 1,000.

RHODE ISLAND.

The Republicans elected Arnold to the vacancy in the Western Congressional district by 838 majority. This election was important because in the event the next election for President should be thrown into the House of Representatives the advantage would be with the Republicans.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago and other cities elected municipal officers. The Republicans made gains in most of the cities. Five suburbs of Chicago voted on annexation. It was carried in Hyde Park, Cicero and Jefferson and defeated in Lake and Lake View. Judge Gary, who tried the Anarchists, was re-elected by 33,000 majority.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Massachusetts elected a State ticket and Legislature. The Republicans claim that Ames' majority over Lovett, for Governor, will be from 14,000 to 17,000. Boston gave Lovett 5,512 majority. The Legislature is Republican by an increased majority.

NEBRASKA.

Nebraska elected a Supreme Judge and two Regents and 19 district judges. The Republicans elected their candidates by the usual majority.

OREGON.

The principal interest in Oregon was centered in the three amendments to the constitution. Prohibition was defeated by 8,000 and that relative to salaries was also beaten. The amendment changing the elections to November was carried.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Pennsylvania elected a State Treasurer and Supreme Judges. The returns indicate heavy Democratic gains, especially in Philadelphia which went Democratic, except on the State ticket. The Republican majority in the State will be 25,000 or 30,000.

DAKOTA.

Dakota voted on dividing the Territory on the 40th parallel and on a prohibition law. North Dakota voted against division and South Dakota for it. The majority in the territory as a whole will be about 10,000. The prohibition law was carried by a small majority. Many women voted under the female suffrage law.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit and other cities held municipal elections. In Detroit the entire Democratic ticket was elected by large majorities and 13 out of 16 Aldermen elected are Democrats.

MISSISSIPPI.

The election in Mississippi was one-sided. A Legislature was elected and the members will nearly all be Democrats. The exceptions will be so few that no attention was paid to them in the reports.

IOWA.

Iowa elected a Governor and State ticket and members of the Legislature. The Democrats made uniform gains all over the State. The Legislature is Republican but the State ticket is still in doubt, with the chances in favor of the Republicans.

KANSAS.

In the Leavenworth and Wichita city elections the Democrats made big gains and elected most of their candidates.

NEW JERSEY.

New Jersey elected members of the Legislature. The Republicans claim a majority of 8 or 10 on joint ballot which would enable them to elect a Senator to succeed McPherson, Dem., in 1889.

CUSTOMARY AND APPROPRIATE.

Proclamation of Gov. Buckner, Designating Nov. 24th, as Thanksgiving Day.

"EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, FRANKFORT, KY., Nov. 2, 1887.—It being customary and appropriate for the Governor of the Commonwealth to recommend the observance of a particular day by the people of the State whereon they may assemble for the purpose of rendering thanks for the great benefits they have received from the Giver of all good, I, S. B. Buckner, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do recommend that Thursday, November 24, 1887, the day designated by the President of the United States for that purpose, be observed by the people of Kentucky in the which each individual may deem most fitting, to acknowledge the bounties which have been extended by the beneficence of the Supreme Being.

"Done at Frankfort the second day of November, A. D. 1887, and in the ninety-sixth year of the Commonwealth.

EVANSVILLE'S WOE.

A Three Hundred Thousand Dollar Fire in the Night.

EVANSVILLE, IND., November 8.—At 1 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the Odd Fellows building, occupied by S. Kahn & Son and Howard L. Babcock.

The entire Fire Department was quickly upon the scene. But it was evident that there was no hope of saving the building, as the whole interior seemed to have been simultaneously fired.

By two o'clock the great building had been consumed and the flames had attacked the wholesale houses of Hays, Runge & Co., Charles P. Wack, R. Maubheimer & Co., and Urso & Marsicano.

Before 3 o'clock these were all destroyed, as well as the warehouse of F. P. Carson, residences of J. J. Simzich, John R. Green, Susie Gest, beside several stables along the alley. Ragson Brothers' store caught fire but it was extinguished. The stores were all well stocked with winter goods.

The losses and insurance are as follows: Kahn & Son, $5,000, insurance $20,000; Howard L. Babcock, $20,000, insurance $2,000; Hays, Runge & Co., $45,000, insurance $25,000; Charles P. Wack, $15,000, insurance $10,000; R. Maubheimer & Co., $30,000, insurance $23,000; Urso & Marsicano, $18,000, insurance $11,000; Ragson Bros., $5,000, fully insured; Lonnert & Mesker, building $50,000, fully insured; Mackey & Co., building, $70,000, insurance $30,000; Wm. M. Aiken, building, $50,000, fully insured; F. P. Carson, $1,000; J. J. Simzich, residence, $5,000, fully insured; Willard Library, building, $5,000, fully insured. Several of the firms have rented houses and will open again to-day. The entire losses will exceed $300,000.

CASKY.

CASKY, KY., Nov. 9.—What an object of pity is that man and especially that friend, who, being guided by an intellect clothed with the purest principles of honor, dwells in that unpardonable state of celibacy until he has crossed the meridian of life. In his youth fearing the responsibilities that a change would incur, and being warned by the wizard voice of time of the maturity of judgment which after years insure, he hushed those beautiful and noble sentiments, emblems of that higher and purer nature; and when at last he determines to make that final step, how surprised he is to find that he is no better prepared than in the days of his boyhood, and with the breath of his tender love "Fanny" his fevered brow he makes that awful resolution, which adds one more to the long list of choleric old bachelors.

The recent change that has taken place in the countenance of Jule Winfree must not be mistaken for the effect of a sudden inheritance or a lucky draw in the Louisiana State Lottery, for it is only the shadow of that paternal love, one of the first teachings of that higher and unwritten law, that is playing hide and seek over the face of that fond father. It's a ten pound boy.

I am glad to note that our highly esteemed friend, E. G. W. Warfield, who has been confined to his room for several days, is up again.

We wish to express our thanks to Mr. J. C. Boxley for several treats to delicious apples and can assure him that in future as in past, they will be appreciated.

Master Robt. Young, who has been visiting Willie and Ben Kendall the past week, returned home to Elkton Monday.

Miss Belle Wisdom of Paducah is the charming and attractive guest of Miss Mary Warfield this week.

Miss Lizzie Withers of Hopkinsville spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Amelia Radford. And from the numerous enquiries made ex-Pressly concerning the whereabouts of one of our town boys during that time, he too must have attended.

It seems as if the California fever will rob us of all our brightest boys. Mr. John Garnett left this morning to make his future home in San Diego.

Dr. J. N. Warfield intends leaving for Los Angeles next week. It makes us sad to say good-bye although we know our loss is their gain.

Thanks Bro. "Hennessey" for your cordial welcome, but you surely are mistaken for we are "Sister" IDLEWILD.

Hall's

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address, F. J. Stomach Tinkering.

The Disposition of Man to Take Liberties With a Patient Friend.

"There is nothing on which a man experiments oftener than his stomach," said a New York gentleman who is old enough to have dyspepsia and young enough to hope to be cured. "A man will tinker with his stomach when he wouldn't think of interfering with his clerk or book-keeper in his store. Yet he has been in business all his life, and probably could take the place of his book-keeper to-morrow. The book-keeper has his work to do, and so long as he does it well his employer doesn't come around with a new system or a new style of books every week or two and have the book-keeper switched off. That's not the way to do business; but the very man who wouldn't tinker around with his employees goes experimenting on himself when he doesn't know what, if any thing, is the matter with him.

"There's a thing I read a few weeks ago that a man should drink a few pints of hydrant water immediately on getting up in the morning. Now let me give you a list of the things that a man should take into his stomach the first thing every morning. I've authority for all these; some have been told me by friends, the majority I have seen in the papers, which have recently done a good deal in this good for the stomach in the morning line:

A pinch of salt in ice water. A teaspoonful of salt in water as hot as you can take it. A cold lemonade very sweet. Hot lemon juice with salt. Hot lemon without drinking anything. Strong coffee. Tea and toast. A raw egg. Beef tea.

Immediately on getting up take a hard crusher for five minutes to masticating is thoroughly.

"That is only a start on the list. There is a fascination in it to me. I want to try each one of those directions and see what effect it has on me. Every week or so I see a new one, and I expect to find in them for somebody, but what I want to know is why have they such a fascination for most men? Why must a man always be tinkering with his stomach? There are hundreds of patent medicines, and the proprietors of all of them are growing rich. It has gone so far that patent medicines are advertised to counteract the effect of injurious and impure drugs taken under the guise of tonics. Next there will be new patent medicines to counteract the effects of these. All these medicines have a big sale. There seems to be an instinct in a man's stomach, like a child's desire for every new toy, that makes him want to give his stomach an experience with every new medicine he hears of, or advice kind friends and newspapers give him.

"It sometimes seems to me that the mortal spirit of mankind that formerly took an outlet in cracking jokes and puns, and was unconcerned as an each other on holidays now vents itself in making a battle ground of a man's stomach. One friend says: "Old fellow, you're not looking well. Dyspepsia again? Well, I know just the thing for it. Take a pint of boiling water every morning. Brace you up. Make you feel like a new man."

"Next friend comes along, says something, only cold water. Another man says some patent mineral water. The try them all. My stomach is the most precious thing about me. If it is out of order, I'm no good. When it's in fine trim I'm chippier. If I were going to invest ten cents in a scheme I'd want to know what it was and what return I'd get before I put my money in. Still, I try any number of experiments on my stomach, and scores of other men that I know do the same thing. Isn't a man's stomach more precious than his money? I wonder what weakness of human nature it is that makes him more careful of the wrong one. Is it curiosity or a hankering after something new?"—N. Y. Sun.

—A Quaker, from the country, went into a city bookstore, and one of the clerks, thinking to have a little fun at his expense, said to him: "You are from the country, are you not?" "Yes," answered the Quaker. "Well, here's an essay on the rearing of calves that you would probably like to buy."

"That," said the Quaker, "threw me better present to my mother!"—N. O. Ledger
